MAY IMPEACH MR. BALLINGER

In Order to Get Him Out of Office.

Unless Secretary of Interior Steps Down and Out Or President Taft Forces Him Out There Will Be Trouble Ahead For Administration—Ballinger's Opponents Determined To See Him Ousted.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Unless Richard A. Ballinger steps down and out of his own accord or President Taft, following a discussion of the case at the coming Cabinet reunion in this city, takes action, the "worst is yet to come" for the administration in its effort to throw off the incubus of Ballinger.

Secretary Ballinger is not expected to resign voluntarily, nor is there any strong belief that the President, in the absence of a unanimous report from the investigating committee against his secretary of the interior, will ask for his resignation. As long as Ballinger is head of the executive department which has charge of the nation's lands, mines and other natural resources Mr. Taft will have trouble to face, for those who are opposed to his retention and who believe that the Glavis-Pinchot charges have been sustained mean to keep up the fight until they force the appointment of another secretary of the interior.

Four Democratic members and one Republican insurgent member of the joint Congressional investigating committee have signed a report declaring their belief that Secretary Ballinger should be removed. Enough Republican regulars voted the report to be able to present a party claim that no quorum was present. The Democrats and the insurgent members considering that they have performed their duty in attending the meeting of the committee on the date set by Chairman Nelson, have intimated that they do not consider it necessary to attend any further meetings. The Republicans are in a quandary. A majority of the members, all Republicans, are anxious to vote in favor of a report withdrawing Ballinger, but they hesitate about taking such action at this juncture, fearing it will receive the indignation of the country. They would prefer to bring out their report of exonerating him after the Congressional elections are over.

But those who have been following the situation closely believe it will make little difference what these absentee Republicans report. They believe Ballinger must go. It would aid the party in some districts if the Republicans should join with the Democrats and Insurgent Madison in voting for the removal of Ballinger, but no one here believes they will take any such action. The difficulty about condemning Ballinger is that such a report, while furnishing the President with a convenient excuse for seeking his resignation, would be directly contrary to the stand taken by Mr. Taft and his associates. The President held that the Glavis charges were proved, and considered them as almost frivolous. Attorney-General Wickersham called them moonshine and the ravings of a megalomaniac. Other members of the President's official family insisted that Ballinger should remain. A verdict by the committee to the effect that the Glavis charges were sustained would be a serious reflection on the judgment of the administration and especially the judicial determination of the President, who held that the charges were not sustained.

Seeing no other way to secure his removal certain members of Congress are considering plans for the impeachment of Secretary Ballinger if he is not out of the way by the time the committee report is submitted to Congress. Unless Secretary Ballinger resigns or the President forces his removal from the Cabinet, there is only one way in which he can be eliminated; that is, by impeachment. No other way is prescribed in the Constitution. The President is supreme over the executive branch within the scope of the Constitution and the laws of the country.

Congress, however much it may condemn a civil officer of the government, cannot say to the President: "You must remove him." There is a constitutional barrier of disposing of recreant officers, and that is by impeachment. The House must bring proceedings impeaching the integrity of the official, and under the Constitution he must be given a fair trial by the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, the highest tribunal under the American form of government.

Two reports are certain to be submitted to both branches of Congress by the Ballinger committee, one exonerating the other condemning Ballinger. Both will be pressed for adoption. The Democratic members of the House are expected to follow the recommendations of Messrs. James, Graham, Fletcher and Purcell, all of whom are considered good lawyers and fair-minded men. Representative Madison, the insurgent member of the committee, has the entire confidence of the progressive Republicans, and if he joins with the Democrats in their report he will be followed by his progressive colleagues in the House.

Several members have already begun the preparation of speeches to be delivered when the Ballinger reports are submitted. The course to be then pursued is yet to be determined, but some members already are considering impeachment. Resolutions might first be adopted expressing the sentiment of Congress against Ballinger, should that turn out to be the majority sentiment, in order to give President Taft a chance to act. Should such resolutions be passed and no action be taken by the administration, impeachment proceedings could be instituted.

When the Ballinger committee was appointed the Democrats and Insurgents were powerful enough to force the election by the House of its members of that committee, and also to force the choice of an Insurgent representative, Mr. Madison. Those who forced the choice of the House members by election believe that by combining with the Insurgents they will also have the upper hand this winter, and that either resolutions urging the President to remove Ballinger or resolutions of impeachment may be adopted. Should the House determine to impeach Ballinger, the Senate would be compelled to proceed with his trial. Only the House can impeach, only the Senate can try. In cases of impeachment the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court presides with the Vice President. In that event it is expected that Governor Hughes, of New York, would have that honor, if such a trial of the secretary of the interior were instituted.

RICHMOND COUPLE WEDDED HERE YESTERDAY

Went To Pelham First, Not Having Heard of Its Decline As a Gretna Green.

Lewis A. Hicks and Miss Ida Chalkley, of Richmond, arrived here about noon yesterday and in two hours were speeding back to Richmond as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Hicks.

There was objection on the part of the young lady's mother. The couple had heard of Pelham as a good place for marrying purposes and thither they hastened, only to find that Pelham was considerably less of a Gretna Green than it used to be, the sub-station there for issuing marriage licenses having been discontinued. So the would-be bride and groom came on to Greensboro.

When No. 7, on which they were traveling, came in, its conductor turned the couple over to the tender care of Capt. C. M. Oakley. Capt. Oakley very kindly consented to aid in securing a license and to serve as witness.

The young lady said she was 19 years of age, but to be on the safe side, the county officials telephoned her sister in Richmond and the Richmond lady went her sister one year better, saying that she was 20 years old. As there was a margin of two years to the young lady's credit, the license was granted.

The ceremony was performed by Squire Collins. No. 36 chanced to be late and Mr. and Mrs. Hicks caught it for Richmond. They made quite a favorable impression on the acquaintances they made in Greensboro.

Taken To Baltimore.

Mr. F. B. Ricks, who has been quite ill at Nashville, N. C., has been removed to the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md. Mr. Ricks' condition is somewhat improved, but his symptoms are not at all satisfactory. He is suffering with acute indigestion.

CRIMINAL COURT BEGINS MONDAY

Large Number of Cases on The Docket.

Principal Case Is One Against Dr. W. L. Vestal and Wife, Who Will Face Murder Charge—About Seventy-five Bonded Cases—Sixteen Jail Cases So Far—Case Against W. C. Thaxton and C. W. Holder Have Been Settled.

The regular September term of Guilford Superior court for the trial of criminal cases will convene Monday morning, Judge C. C. Lyon, of Elizabeth City, presiding. Solicitor S. M. Gattis will prosecute the docket. The following jurors have been drawn for the term:

W. F. Andrews, Milt Brown, D. E. Knight, M. L. Fogleman, J. H. Bowman, W. A. Foster, Jesse L. May, T. M. Webb, J. G. Jobe, J. M. Allred, V. B. Donnell, W. A. Gresson, D. R. Pitchford, Jno. G. Cook, R. B. Beall, Julius M. Dick, Martin Burros, Jno. A. Brewer, H. H. Wilson, L. G. Braswell, D. H. Blair, W. H. Rees, D. W. Osborne, Z. L. Groome, J. A. Hoskins, J. W. Crews, S. H. Stafford, N. M. Knight, C. V. Richardson, Jesse W. Frazier, Wm. M. Brookbank, E. O. Pegram, Jas. F. Pegram, Jas. A. Parrish, C. E. Hinshaw, W. P. Pickett.

From the present outlook there will be plenty to do and it is hardly probable that the docket will be cleared. There are about seventy-five bonded cases that were continued from the last term of court. The new cases have not all been sent in, but there will be twenty-five or thirty. Sixteen prisoners are now in jail awaiting trial and several defendants are under bond. However, the majority of the cases are of minor importance.

The case of greatest interest is that of State vs. Dr. W. L. Vestal, the High Point physician charged with murder, his wife being held as an accomplice. The two were held for court without bail by the coroner's jury without a preliminary hearing. They are charged with causing the death of a young woman by having performed a criminal operation. Counsel has been secured and the case will be hotly contested. The evidence will doubtless be of a revolting nature and it is likely that all persons, excepting witnesses and counsel will be barred from the court room during the trial.

The cases against W. C. Thaxton, C. W. Holder and George Culp, who were convicted in Municipal court on the charge of keeping bawdy and disorderly houses and who appealed from the court's judgment, have been settled and will not go to the higher court. A fine of $200 and costs was imposed on Thaxton, a fine of $100 and costs was imposed on Culp and Holder was fined $150 and costs. All three appealed from this judgment, but last week the fines were paid and the appeals withdrawn.

The cases against Marion Butler and brother, Lester F. Butler, charging them with criminally libeling ex-Judge S. B. Adams will probably be not prosessed and stricken off the docket, it being understood that the agreement in the withdrawal of the civil actions stipulated that this should be done.

BALL GAME SATURDAY.

The members of the two traveling organizations in the city are making special arrangements for the ball game next Saturday afternoon. The complete line-up has not been given out, but it is known that Bagwell and Gilliam will shoot 'em over the rubber. The admission will be the usual price charged by the two organizations, to wit: Admission free. A cordial invitation is extended the citizens to see the game. Batteries: T. P. A., Bagwell and Lynn; U. T. C., T. P. Gilliam and Crutchfield. Game called at 3:30 o'clock. Umpire—Brandt.

Miss Boyles Leaves.

Miss Irene Boyles left yesterday for Nashville, Tenn., where she will enter the missionary training school. The Epworth League of West Market Street Methodist church on Monday night gave a farewell reception to Miss Boyles, pretty souvenirs containing a likeness of Miss Boyles being given to each of the members present.

STATE HANDBOOK IS ABOUT READY

Best Ever Issued by State Democrats.

State Chairman Eller Will Begin Sending Copies Out—Waging Aggressive Campaign—First Bale of Cotton In Wake—Some Attractions For the State Fair—Reduced Railroad Rates Secured.

Raleigh, Sept. 13.—Chairman A. H. Eller, of the State Democratic executive committee, is waging an aggressive campaign, and is perfecting organizations in every county in the State, and appointments are being made for speeches by some of the party's ablest men.

The handbook is almost completed and will be received from the printers tonight or tomorrow morning. This book is said to be one of the very best ever issued in the State, clearly setting forth the position of the party on the vital issues before the people.

Stewart Rogers, colored, brought to Raleigh yesterday the first bale of cotton produced in this county this year. The cotton was grown on the lands of Mr. Will Robbins, of St. Mary's township. The bale weighed 602 pounds at Garner, where it was ginned yesterday morning. The bale was sold to Barbee & Co., for 14 1-8 cents per pound, its weight being 495 pounds at the platform.

Less than five weeks from now the great North Carolina State Fair will be here, bringing the greatest number of exhibits, shows and people ever seen in this State. The railroads are co-operating with the fair officials and will have greatly reduced rates, going into effect October 15 and lasting until the 24th.

The year 1910 finds the great State fair at a half century milestone in its long and honorable career. For 50 consecutive years since the reorganization of the society on its present basis, not to mention the years before that, to which the memory of man hardly runneth, every autumn the people of the State have loved to gather at the Capital for the great State Fair.

There is now under construction to be completed before the opening of the fair of 1910, a re-inforced concrete exhibition building of modern concrete, 50x150 feet, of ornamental architecture, surmounted by a pagoda-like roof garden overlooking the race track and taking in a view of the entire grounds. The building will be absolutely fire-proof, with concrete floors and metal doors and high windows. It will be used for the installation of agricultural and horticultural exhibits.

Negotiations are pending looking towards securing either a Wright or Curtis aeroplane as an attraction, and no doubt visitors to this year's fair will have an opportunity to see a "man-bird" fly over the city.

A few of the free attractions, besides the possibility of the "man-bird," will be Calvert, the great highwire equilibrist, doing many novel stunts on the high wire; Camerini, the great teeth descensionist, in his famous slide for life; Gerard Leon, king of laughter; the famous Weber family, six in number; baloon race between the "Mobile" and the "Monroe"; the Guthries in their sensational triple trapeze acts.

White Oak Woodmen.

White Oak Camp No. 304, Woodmen of the World held an enthusiastic meeting last night in their forest at White Oak. There was a large attendance and the meeting was a most interesting one. Now that the nights are getting longer and the weather cooler the camp hopes to hold many such meetings. The camp meets every Tuesday night at 7:45 and all Woodmen in the community are most cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Many Students Come In.

A large number of young ladies came in on the trains yesterday to enter the State Normal and Greensboro Female colleges. The formal opening at G. F. C. will take place this morning and many students will come in on the morning trains. A majority of the Normal students will come in today and tomorrow.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT.

Several Cases on the Docket Yesterday Morning—Not a Drunk.

There were several cases on the docket when Judge Eure convened Municipal court yesterday morning, but not a single drunk was in the list, an unusual occurrence in view of the fact that the day preceding was circus day. Usually a number of drunks have to be taken up on the occasion of a circus, but not a single one was taken in by the police. Another fact that is worthy of mention in this connection is that no petty thieving was brought to the attention of the officers. There were three boys charged with stealing knives, but this occurred before the show arrived.

Dave Stevenson, usually known as Dave Stinson, and Will Stockton, of Reidsville, were charged with engaging in any affray. From the evidence it appeared that Stevenson only fought in self-defense and the case was dismissed as to Stevenson. Stockton was fined $10 and costs.

Wes Craig, who drew a gun on his "beloved" Sunday night, was charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, the warrant being changed to read simple assault. Pending good behavior judgment was suspended on payment of costs.

Len Stout, Roland Stout and Sylvester Spough, three small white boys, were charged with forcible trespass, Len Stout and Spough being found guilty. They were placed under a bond of $250 each until Friday morning when final disposition will be made of the case. An effort is being made to have the boys placed in the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School at Concord. They are the boys who took the knives from the store of the Odell Hardware Company Saturday night and disposed of a number of the knives Monday morning at the show grounds. Roland Stout was found not guilty of the charge.

LAYS IT ON PROHIBITION

Gilliam Grissom Thus Explains the Republican Overthrow in Maine.

Secretary Gilliam Grissom was seen at Republican State headquarters yesterday and his first words were regarding the Democratic victory in Maine. "Prohibition did it," he declared, "and it will do the same thing in North Carolina only it will be a change from Democratic to Republican rule instead of from Republican to Democratic as in Maine." Seeing that here was an opportunity of getting an explanation of the "local self government" plank in the Republican State platform the reporter continued to question Mr. Grissom along this line. "So you are going to use the local option plank?"

"Don't call it local option, call it local self-government," corrected Mr. Grissom. "We don't want the prohibition question connected with our campaign. The people of this State are tired of having to run over into Virginia every time they want a drink and they are going to take revenge on the Democrats for bringing about this state of affairs, just as the Maine Democrats have scored the Republicans of that state. While we are not going to make prohibition an issue, yet it, without our dwelling upon the question in the least, is going to be a factor in the political revolution in North Carolina."

Story Hour in the Public Library.

Friday, Sept. 16th at 4 p. m. a story hour will be given in the public library and children from 6 to 10 years are cordially invited to come and enjoy this pleasure when Miss Ethel Troy, a storyteller beloved of little people, will entertain them.

Mothers are asked to remember the date as only one story hour will be given here during September. Other kindergarten teachers have generously promised the librarian other dates for the children which will be announced later.

Broken Water Pipe In a Basement Makes Trouble.

A bursted water pipe in the basement of the Watlington building on South Elm street made it necessary yesterday to get a fire engine and pump out the water. Hand pumps were first used, but proved inadequate. So "General Greene" was brought into requisition. Even with that the undertaking was a big one.

CO-OPERATION OF THE PEOPLE

And Proper Legislation Sought.

State Association For Prevention of Tuberculosis Urges That More Adequate Means Be Furnished For Prevention and Cure of "White Plague"—Secretary Julian Sending Resolutions Out.

Thomasville, Sept. 13.—Dr. C. A. Julian, secretary of the North Carolina Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, is sending out all over the State copies of resolutions adopted by the association at the last annual meeting. The resolutions are in the nature of a plea for proper legislation that will provide more adequate means for preventing and curing the dread disease, and a request that people all over the state lend their efforts and co-operate with the association in its fight on the "white plague" in North Carolina. The resolutions in full follow:

Whereas tuberculosis is known to be communicable, curable, and preventable; and Whereas, at present, the loss to society in deaths and in money justifies a concerted effort on the part of the public:

Resolved, That the attendance at the North Carolina Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis calls to the attention of all religious bodies and business organizations, manufacturers and employers, the great need of the popular enlightenment of the citizens of the State and for institutions for the cure of unfortunate sufferers, and recommends that the representatives from the various counties of North Carolina be instructed to pay special attention to the enactment of such legislation as will aid to provide for an adequate appropriation to provide for the establishment and maintenance of such institutions, and that every legitimate organization of the State lends its co-operation to wage a campaign for the results commensurate with our needs.

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the religious bodies, trade and business organizations, and leading papers of the State, and that every board of trade and chamber of commerce be requested to adopt resolutions expressing the desire of their various communities, and publicly request the representatives of their respective communities, when elected, to vote for an adequate appropriation to aid in preventing and curing tubercular patients throughout the State, when the next General Assembly convenes in Raleigh in 1911.

MR. KLUTZ IMPROVING.

Will Be Able To Leave Hospital in Three Or Four Days—Other Victims of Accident.

Mr. C. Guy Ferguson returned last night from Salisbury where he went yesterday afternoon to see Mr. A. J. Klutz, who was hurt in the automobile accident Monday afternoon and carried to the Whitehead-Stokes Sanatorium. Mr. Ferguson reports that Mr. Klutz was doing nicely and will be able to return home in three or four days. Mr. Klutz had fully recovered consciousness and talked freely with Mr. Ferguson regarding the accident. A thorough examination revealed the fact that no bones were broken and no internal injuries. One of Mr. Klutz's ankles was badly sprained.

Mrs. Ferguson, who was badly shaken up and painfully injured in the accident, is getting along nicely and will be able to be out in two or three days. Mr. Ferguson was badly shaken up and was somewhat sore yesterday and was suffering from a sprained ankle, but barring this is getting along nicely. As soon as the swelling in her ankle subsides she will be able to get about.

GAYNOR WALKS EIGHT MILES.

Has Read Four Books, Including "Paradise Lost," This Week.

New York Evening Sun.

Shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon a little man in an old tweed suit and faded hat walked down the road toward Boomertown. The little man was Mayor Gaynor.

A group of reporters left their rocking chairs on the porch of Sam Gould's roadhouse and walked across the lane to meet him.

"How far are you going, Judge?" they asked.

"Oh, just around the block. Come along with me, but don't ask me to talk."

The reporters tagged along behind with covert smiles at the little man's drooping shoulders and thin legs. It would be easy enough, they thought, to take the pace of a convalescent with a bullet in his throat. Mayor Gaynor smiled, too, behind his beard and said nothing. He walked along at a steady three-mile-an-hour gait passed the outskirts of St. James, entered Boomertown and passed that.

After three-quarters of an hour's steady plodding through scrub oak and dwarf pines the party came to the crossroads. The Mayor turned to the left without a word. "How far is this, Judge?" one of the following in his train inquired a little anxiously.

"Oh, about two miles," was the answer. "Sorry I can't go a little faster, but I have difficulty in swallowing and have to go slow. I usually go at a four-mile-an-hour gait."

Silence again for three-quarters of an hour more. Then another crossroads. "Four miles," said Mr. Gaynor, turning once more to the left. The reporters plodded on without a word. At the next milepost one of them sat down in the grass.

"I've got a sore leg," he explained.

The party went on and left him behind. After another long period the silence, broken only by the song of a whippoorwill, Mayor Gaynor came to a fork in the road. The sun had set long before and a crescent moon hung low in the Western sky. It was after 7 o'clock.

"Well, boys," said His Honor, looking from one face to another, "which road shall it be? That one to the right leads around by the mill pond. It's three miles long. This one to the left goes straight to the village. It's only a mile to home that way." The reporters said nothing, but marched in a body down the left-hand road. For the remainder of the distance the Mayor chatted as gayly as his sore throat would permit. As showing the catholicity of the Mayor's literary taste. The books are Milton's "Paradise Lost," "Marriage," by Mrs. Herbert Parsons; a treatise on the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy, and Professor Higgins' "The Bright Side of Life."

At the roadhouse the walking club broke up. "How far have we gone, Judge?" the reporters asked.

"Only about eight miles," was the reply. "I just wanted to try myself out."

"Are you tired, Mr. Gaynor?" was the next query. "I don't perceive any symptoms of fatigue," he answered.

HAIR SOFT AS SILK.

New Scientific Treatment Kills Dandruff Germs and Makes Hair Soft.

It is an accepted fact, a proven fact, that dandruff is a germ disease; and it is also a demonstrated fact that Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff falling hair would stop, and thin hair will thicken. Herpicide not only kills the dandruff germ, but it also makes hair as soft as silk. It is the most delightful hair dressing made. It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and keeps it clean and healthy. Itching and irritation are instantly relieved, and permanently cured. There's nothing "just as good." Take no substitute. Don't Tell Father.

The Smith household was expecting a visit from the stork. Bobby's mother had wisely talked the matter over with him, telling him that it was a precious secret between them, and he must not speak of it to any one. Bobby, who had long wished for a baby sister, was fairly bursting with happiness, and that evening, when a friend called, she was informed by him of the joy in store for them. Then suddenly, recalling the admonition of his mother, he clapped his hand to his mouth and exclaimed, "Oh, I forgot! It is a secret! Papa doesn't know anything about it!"—The Delinquent for October.

The Professional View.

An English physician of whom many stories are in circulation may not be as unsympathetic as a recent anecdote seems to make him. He is a specialist on all sorts of mental disturbances and the fits, spasms and convulsions which sometimes accompany them. One of his patients, a most excitable person, if suddenly alarmed or distressed, would fall into a carious comatose state from which she could not be roused until the effect of the shock had passed. The physician had been summoned again and again, but it always happened that he was away from home at the time, and before he arrived on the scene of action the patient had recovered. At last one night he was summoned and arrived at the house while the woman was still unconscious. He hurried upstairs and into the room where she was lying on the couch. He looked at her, and an expression of interest overspread his face.

"Now, this," he said in his most cheerful tone—"this is something like!"

Whistler's Ways.

It was Whistler's custom when drowsy to go deliberately to sleep, no matter where or what the circumstances might be. At one dinner party his gentle snore suddenly aroused his neighbor, who nudged him violently with his elbow. "I say, Whistler," he protested excitedly, "you must not sleep here!"

"Leave me alone!" snapped Whistler. "I've said all I wanted to. I've no interest at all in what you and your friends have to say."

One evening he was my guest at dinner at a hotel. Edwin A. Abbey was also there. Right after dinner Whistler went calmly to sleep. On the way to the theater he enjoyed another nap in the cab, and he slumbered peacefully through the greater part of the play. The next morning he blandly asked me: "What did Abbey have to say last night? Anything worth while?"—Century.

"Charms" in Cornwall.

Cornwall, England, is a county of "charms." The passing of children through holes in the earth, rocks or trees, once an established rite, is still practiced in various parts of Cornwall," wrote Thomas G. Couch about fifty years ago. "With us boys are cured by creeping on the hands and knees beneath a bramble which has grown into the soil at both ends. Children afflicted with hernia are still passed through a slit in an ash sapling before sunrise, fasting, after which the slit portions are bound up, and as they unite so the malady is cured. The ash is indeed a tree of many virtues. Venomous reptiles are never known to rest under its shadow, and a single blow from an ash stick is instant death to an adder. Struck by a bough of any other tree, the reptile is said to retain marks of life until the sun goes down."

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." Somebody Told.

The steamer landed at the St. Joe dock and the passengers began to disembark.

Whereupon the orchestra on the boat struck up Mendelssohn's wedding march. "Wilfred," said the pretty young thing in white, blushing furiously, and turning to the young man by her side, "you've told somebody."—Chicago Tribune.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause breakdowns. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

And He Gave It.

"You may say what you like against young ministers, but I have nothing but praise for our young pastor," the pompous Mr. Brown, remarked as he passed out of the church. "Nothing but praise!"

"So I observed," dryly retorted the deacon who had passed the plate.—Harper's.

HARMONY CORNERS

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

Harmony Corners consisted of a store, a postoffice and a blacksmith shop. Moses Schiff ran the store, Jacob Schiff the postoffice and Peter Schiff the blacksmith shop. Then there was Phileas Schiff, Aaron Schiff, Thursday Schiff, Goodheart Schiff, Thursday Schiff, Godfear Schiff and Elijah Schiff, all farmers, within a radius of two miles. Each Schiff was related to all the other Schiffs by blood or marriage. It was a settlement of Schiffs alone and had been for fifty years. No strangers were allowed to built in.

Old Moses, who ran the store with the help of a son, was the patriarch of the flock. He was adviser, judge and jury in all matters. There had never been a case for the lawyers in that community. If there was a disagreement it was taken to Moses. He said do this or do that, and it was done. People said that Harmony Corners was a living, breathing example of the morality and unselfishness of human nature.

After all that half century of peace, industry and good will Godfear Schiff was the one to produce discord. It was another proof that there's nothing in a name. It was seldom that anything called a Schiff away from home, but on an occasion Godfear had to make a journey to Pittsburg, eighty miles away. It was a serious event. It called for serious talk and many prayers. He might return alive, but the chances were very much against it. His will had been made for years, and he read it over, fed the cows and departed.

Godfear reached the Smoky City right end up, much to his astonishment. He saw houses and stores and factories. He saw a sewing machine in a show window, and as he stood looking at it a "barker" pulled him in and the merits of the machine were explained. He thought well of it. There were seven children in his family and much sewing to do. Not a Schiff had a labor saving machine of any sort, not even a corn sheller or an apple parer. As their grandfathers had lived so were they living. Godfear was in town three days. He called to inspect that sewing machine six different times. At last he drew a long breath and decided to take the chances and ordered the thing sent on to him.

The Schiffs never dealt with peddlers nor agents. The very same machine could have been bought at Godfear's own gate any day in the week.

Moses sat on that machine in a judicial capacity for a week and then decided that it must be given up. It was witchcraft: it was an innovation; it would break up the long prevailing harmony of Harmony Corners. Godfear bucked. The invention had been tested, and it would do more sewing in a day than his wife could do by hand in a week. There was no odor of brimstone about it. It ate no hay or oats, and occupied but a small space. Some of the other Schiffs, and particularly the wives, backed him up.

Of course, the news that Godfear Schiff had "broken out" was passed around the country, and the immediate result was to bring a swarm of sewing machine agents down on the Schiff tribe. They had sewing machines that would tuck, hem, ruffle, braid, embroider, patch, sew on buttons, rock the baby, churn the butter, feed the hens, sort over potatoes, build the fire and all that, and they came and talked and talked. Then the tin peddlers and parlor organ men came.

Moses Schiff saw the cloud no bigger than a man's hand, and he called a gathering of his clan. He was heeled with statistics to prove how greatly those inventions of Satan had increased the wickedness of the world. Thousands of murders, burglaries, horse thefts, elopements and so on could be directly traced to them. Did they want to find themselves on the gallows? Did they want to know that their children were in state prison? In fact, did they sigh to meet Satan face to face and be caught up and sent down to the hot place by rapid transit?

If they bought parlor organs and sewing machines, what next? Why, brass bedsteads, chinaware, furs, new hats, corn shellers, carpets and stuffed chairs would be sure to follow, and then farewell to the harmony of Harmony Corners. With tears in his eyes he besought and wrestled, but a number of the Schiffs had got started on the downward road and wouldn't hold up. It was only four days after the meeting that one of them bought an egg beater and the click of the spoon against the bowl would be heard in his family no more. Then came a dollar alarm clock, and this was followed by a set of cane seated chairs. Satan had got his grip.

In one year from that visit of Godfear's to Pittsburg the heaven was working overtime. The Schiffs were at odds; they were bringing lawsuits against each other; they were putting down ingrain carpets in their parlors; they were buying patent churas; the men no longer went to church barefooted and in their shirt sleeves. Old Moses called another gathering and threatened and bulldozed, but the cyclone had got started and the only way out for him was to commit suicide. Two years later half of Harmony Corners was owned by others than Schiffs, and the harmony of half a century was harmony no more. And then its name was changed to the one it bears today—Hardscrabble.

Maine was the standard Republican State. "Rock-ribbed" they called it.

The Springfield Republican comes forward with the discovery that the tariff is a moral issue. We thought any kind of hold-up business was a moral issue.

The progressive colleges are cutting out hazing. There never was any sound reason for the existence of such a practice. The new man at college has troubles enough without being assaulted.

When the rest of the country is going Democratic, it is hard to see on what the Republicans are basing their hopes to carry half the Congressional districts in North Carolina. It's too big a job even for "booze and boodle."

In the old States as well as in those just a-borning Democracy is triumphant. Democrats of Arizona on Monday elected a majority of the delegates to the constitutional convention.

Mr. Roosevelt is ordinarily very loquacious, but the record is that when he was told of the Democratic victory in Maine he had nothing to say. For once Terrible Teddy couldn't come back.

What is a "joint?" Prof. Brander Matthews, of Columbia University, says it is "a place where men and women, drunk and sober, are steered in to lose their money." The Professor is a good English scholar. His definition is no doubt the right one.

We have been thinking that Roosevelt's trip West was a fine thing for the Democracy and we find the Asheville Citizen of the same frame of mind. "There is no telling," according to the Citizen, "how far the tidal wave of Democracy will sweep if Roosevelt goes out on another junket."

Comptroller of the Currency Lawrence O. Murray in an address made at Washington to bank supervisors condemned bank promoters in unmistakable terms. Unless one knows the average promoter he is a good person to let alone even if he is promoting something else than a bank.

The Asheville Citizen sees in the Maine election "the knell of Republicanism." The old stand-pat Republican party certainly seems to be on its last legs. If the progressive element doesn't get control of the party—and such a consummation appears unlikely—it is most likely done for.

The political situation is said to be so critical that the President is talking of foregoing his trip to Panama. The President should run along and attend to government business and let the Republican party look out for itself. He is not the President of the Republican party; he is the President of the United States.

Well, well, who would have expected Maine to go Democratic? But that is just what it did Monday, electing a Democratic Governor and several Democratic Representatives with possibly a Democratic legislature. From Maine to Florida and from North Carolina to California the folks appear to be ready to overthrow Republicanism.

A Federal grand jury in session in Chicago returned indictments against a number of the officials of the meat trust. J. Ogden Armour, one of those indicted, said:

I deeply regret the bringing of these indictments for the charges are unfounded as will be shown when the cases come to trial. The true facts will then be made known. Misunderstandings and prejudices have been the basis of these attacks. They can be seen now, and will be removed.

Mr. Armour "regrets the indictments" but says that "the true facts" will be made known. This is about the same thing as saying that he didn't want "the true facts" made known. But why shouldn't they be made known? Publicity is one of the greatest of remedies for evil. As the sunlight and frost are destructive to disease germs, so publicity tends to wipe out, or certainly to check, wrong. "The true facts" are what the public wants and without which it will feel that it is being denied its rights.

PLANS NATIONAL IN SCOPE BEING WORKED OUT HERE

The Work To Be Done With the $15,000 Given By Mrs. Russell Sage to Protect Birds.

The following is from the New York Tribune:

At the Southern office of the National Association of Audubon Societies, at Greensboro, N. C., plans are well in hand now for the work to be done with the $15,000 given by Mrs. Russell Sage to protect the birds, especially the robins, of the South.

The association doesn't purpose to waste any time on hardened adults with a taste for robin pie. Most of Mrs. Sage's gift will be spent in educating the children.

To every junior Audubon class, for bird study—which must consist of 10 or more children paying a yearly fee of 10 cents each—the association will send sets of colored pictures with outline drawings and leaflets, an Audubon button for each child and "Bird Lore" free of cost every month.

Teachers are invited to write the association whenever they have questions to ask or experiences to relate. The leaflets will help them out with plans of study.

Mrs. Sage's gift will also pay the salary of a field worker for Virginia. The Legislature of that State had always been peculiarly stubborn against passing laws to protect birds, but the association holds that laws merely reflect expressed public sentiment, so Miss Catherine Stuart is appointed to work Virginia sentiment up in the right direction.

The gift provides for three years' work—$5,000 to be disbursed each year—and the association calculates that one enthusiastic woman can do a good deal to open the eyes of a State like Virginia in three years.

"Mrs. Sage is especially concerned for the robins," B. S. Bowditch, chief clerk of the association and special inspector of wild birds and animals for the United States Department of Agriculture, said yesterday, "because so many accounts have appeared in the papers of the wholesale killing of these birds in the South.

"Robins, you know, are low nesting birds, and men who haven't any prejudice against dining on these friendly little creatures kill hundreds of them by torchlight—knock them off the branches, stifle them with charcoal fumes and thrust them, half dead, by scores, into bags.

Mrs. Sage, like all bird lovers, didn't like reading these accounts, and is anxious to do what she can to prevent the slaughter of the innocents.

SOUTHERN MANUFACTURER OF SHOES INVADES WASHINGTON

Fifty Workmen Give Exhibition Never Before Equalled in Kind At Nation's Capital and Crowds Fill Store Day and Evening.

The first practical demonstration showing how shoes are made beginning with rough leather and continuing until the finished product is ready to be placed in paper boxes for the retail trade ever seen in Washington is being given in the new branch store of Robert Berberich's Sons, 813 Pennsylvania avenue, N. W.

The exhibition is said to be one of the most elaborate ever attempted outside of the large expositions and world's fairs. Thirty-four machines, the most up-to-date, are in operation and fifty skilled workmen are in charge of the exhibit.

The machines are lined up on two sides and one end of the long, wide room on the first floor, a rail separating them from the crowd. The hum of the machinery, the sound of many voices, give the place an air of activity rarely seen in Washington.

That the exhibit will be a success is doubted by no one. More than one thousand people are visiting this store every hour and as the crowds increase daily, it is estimated that more than fifty thousand people will see how "Craddock" shoes are made before this exhibition closes.

The machines are identical with those used by the Craddock-Terry Company, of Lynchburg, Va., in their large West End factory, where the Craddock and Terry special shoes are made. Mr. Berberich visited Lynchburg some weeks ago, at which time he decided to take the agency for the Craddock and Terry

Special shoes in Washington and while in conversation with Mr. Chas. G. Craddock of that firm he stated that if the people of Washington could see the materials put into these shoes that he knew every man in Washington would want a pair, therefore, Craddock-Terry Company decided to make these shoes in Washington for a period of ten days, so that the men of Washington would have an opportunity of seeing how these shoes were made before they purchased them.

New England has been the shoe center of the country for the last hundred years, and it is only within the last few years that shoes have been manufactured in the South on a large scale, therefore, this exhibit by a southern manufacturer in the capital city has created a sensation in business circles. The New England manufacturers never believed that it could be possible for the South to manufacture shoes successfully, but the success of this enterprising firm has demonstrated that Southern manufacturers can manufacture shoes not only for the South, but for the balance of the country.

PASSED THE MILLION MARK.

The Achievement of America's Greatest Newspaper.

On Sunday, Aug. 28, the New York World printed its one-millionth advertisement for 1910. To be exact, the New York World printed 1,004,514 advertisements between Jan. 1, 1910, and Aug. 28, 1910. In the slang of the day, this was "going some." And "that ain't all." It's going to print over half a million more between now and next January. There is no such recommendation of a newspaper as the supremacy of its advertising records.

GUGGENHEIM AND ALDRICH SCORED

Arraigned For Stand on Tariff Bill.

Senator Bristow of Kansas, Also Attacks Guggenheim and Hughes For Their Failure to Support Long and Short Haul Clause in Railroad Bill—Republican Party Must Face Issues of Today Or People Will Turn To Another Political Organization.

Grand Junction, Col., Sept. 13.—In a speech advocating the nomination of Merle D. Vincent, for governor of Colorado on the Republican ticket, Senator Joseph L. Bristow, of Kansas, last night arraigned Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, and Senator Simon Guggenheim, of Colorado, for their stand on the tariff bill and attacked Senators Guggenheim and Hughes for their failure to support the long and short haul clause of the railroad bill.

Speaking of the position of Hughes and Guggenheim on the long and short haul clause of the railroad bill, Senator Bristow said: "When we determined to put the long and short haul clause in the railroad bill we were threatened by Attorney General Wickersham with the veto of the bill. I am informed that he did not vote for Roosevelt but for Parker; yet he had the presumption to read us out of the Republican party. Why? Because we fought for the interests of our constituents and refused to bow to the special interests."

In conclusion Mr. Bristow said: "I believe the Republican party is the greatest political organization in the world and that it has accomplished the most good for mankind but it must face the living issues now and face them right or the people will turn to some other organization."

HISS NAME OF ROOSEVELT

Astonishing Roar of Disapproval At Big Meeting Held In A Chicago Theatre. Chicago Correspondence New York World.

Hisses greeted the name of Theodore Roosevelt at a Republican meeting attended by 3,000 men in the Garrick Theatre today.

"Cut out Teddy!" "Forget the Roosevelt party!" "No Roosevelt in ours!"

These were some of the cries that swelled to a roar in an astonishing spontaneous exhibition of public disapproval.

The gathering was in the interest of the Republican insurgent or anti-slate candidates for the county ticket. State's Attorney Wayman was the principal speaker.

A. F. Nightingale, seeking the nomination for county superintendent of schools brought on the storm with these words: "Go to the polls next Thursday with the same enthusiasm you would exhibit if it was a Presidential election—go as though it were another battle between Bryan and Roosevelt!"

We take pleasure in announcing that Madame Nolan, the celebrated corsetiere, will arrive on Monday, 19th, and will give a public demonstration in our corset department of the latest LaVida models.

We invite all who are interested in correct corseting to be on hand. The demonstration will take place on second floor and those who desire to avail themselves of Madame Nolan's expert knowledge of corseting will have an opportunity to consult her as to their special requirements.

The new LaVida models are marvelous beauty builders. They combine the elongated, sculptured lines of present style requirements with pliant suppleness and perfect comfort. There are shapes to fit every type of figure. We invite you to a trial fitting.

Meyer's DEPARTMENT STORE GREENSBORO

ROOSEVELT, WORLD CITIZEN

The Colonel Is So Regarded In England, Says a Visiting M. P.

New York Times. To establish in this country a lace-making machinery factory, designed to save import duties, the Hon. E. Jardine, M. P., arrived yesterday on the White Star liner Cedric. Jardine who is a manufacturer of lacemaking machinery, is prominent in English politics.

Beginning January 1, an import duty of 70 per cent. on lace and 45 per cent. on lacemaking machinery goes into effect.

In England, he said, Roosevelt is viewed as our first citizen, and he added:

"The masses have heard of President Taft, of course, but Roosevelt is the man that every one knows about and to the masses he is more than a citizen of the United States—to them he is a citizen of the world. If you, haven't any use for him over here, send him to England. We'll be glad to make use of his services."

To Attend Presbytery.

Revs. Melton Clark, C. E. Hodgins and J. W. Goodman have gone to Hawfields church, Alamance county, to attend the sessions of Orange Presbytery. A number of Presbyterian laymen from the city went down also. The sessions will continue several days.

Mr. R. L. England, the auctioneer, has received a note of thanks from Mr. S. H. Venable, manager of the Pilot Mountain Real Estate Co., for the successful manner in which Mr. England conducted a lot sale for this company a few weeks ago. Mr. Venable is more than pleased with results of this sale. 1t

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

Howard Gardner, the popular druggist is making an offer that is just like finding money for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is only recently through the solicitation of Druggist Howard Gardner that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents, he urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, he will return your money.

There are three essential elements, according to "The Philadelphia Record," that make for success in a modern newspaper: First, it must print all the news, with an eye to the interests of all types of readers, in attractive and entertaining form. Second, whatever political cause it may editorially espouse, it must be fair, free of outside dictation, and sincere in advocating the policies it believes to be best for the general welfare. Third, it must be clean, wholesome and elevating in its influence.

"The Record" itself possesses all these elements of success, and then some. Independently Democratic in politics, it is as nearly nonpartisan as a newspaper can be in its news columns, which fully and accurately cover the entire field tributary to Philadelphia. Aside from its news departments, including its daily market reports, which are recognized authority in produce transactions, it is pre-eminent in several other features that have contributed immensely to its popularity as a family newspaper. The last word on household affairs, science, fashions and farm progress is found in its regular departments. Its famous "Reporters' Nonsense" column is widely quoted throughout the country. It is the leader in the field of sports. It is practically the only daily paper in the East for horse news. And its cartoonist, who hits off the principal events of the day in inimitable style, is second to none in the United States.

"The Philadelphia Record" has another element of news value that is of particular interest to the women of the family. The store news is generally of secondary importance in their eyes only to the chronicle of the world's doings. "The Record," it is worth noting, prints more department store advertising than any other newspaper in Philadelphia.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless. Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S. C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

WOMAN SELLS HER BLOOD.
Demands $2,000 From Estate of Patient Who Received It.
St. Paul, Sept. 12.—The monetary value of blood given to save the life of another was the problem before Judge of Probate George R. Smith today. The transfusion was given by Evelyn Whitney, 26 years old, to Mrs. Mattie Mulligan on her death bed in St. Mary's Hospital, on September 15 last.
The operation did not save the old woman's life. She died, leaving an estate of $45,000. Evelyn Whitney has made a claim of $2,000 against the estate for her sacrifice of blood. A part of the claim will be allowed.
Mrs. Mulligan was dying of anaemia. Dr. D. C. Cowes told in court today how the operation was performed. Friends had gone to many persons, he said, before Miss Whitney offered to undergo the operation. An artery was severed in her wrist and joined to the artery in the other woman's arm. They were connected for two hours.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Late estimates on the percentage of recoveries under the new emollient treatment of Bright's Disease are as follows:

Where patient is much weakened and crisis may be expected in from five to ten days, probably not more than 10 per cent to 20 per cent recover. Where physicians aid with efforts to restrain fatal symptoms this percentage is increased. In cases where patients have from thirty to sixty days of life the efficiency is very much higher.

Where patients do not wait until bed-ridden probably three-fourths yield.

And in cases that take the new emollient treatment on the appearance of the disease nearly nine out of ten respond.

Albumen Casts and dropsy do not prevent recovery. The point is that the renal inflammation should be attacked before the heart and physical system are broken down.

The new emollient treatment is known as Fulton's Renal Compound. It can be had in Greensboro at the Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us who is not noting the usual improvement by the third week. Literature mailed free. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery St., San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

WHAT MAKES A GIRL POPULAR?

Beauty, Grace, Intelligence and Radiance. But the Greatest of These is Radiance.

What can a young girl—who is neither a great beauty nor an heiress, nor one to whom the gods stood sponsor at birth—do to make herself popular? Let us sit down and take our chins in our hands and think about it.

I should suggest that a young girl must have, at least in some small degree, four qualities. There are children of fortune who have them all, and in abundance; but as from a small palette of primary colors a great picture may be painted, just so, out of a few elementary attributes, quite wonderful results are possible. The four qualities of personality that I would suggest are:

Beauty, grace, intelligence radiance. Beauty may be that of face, or figure, or it may be merely an effect of beauty through style, charm, or even one of the other three qualities following.

Grace includes not alone symmetry of movement, but all accomplishments in activity, such as dancing, skating, swimming, riding, and also any special gifts, such as talent for music or acting. In other words, the girl who has the "gift of grace" is the girl who does things well.

By intelligence is meant the sympathetic, adaptable quality of mind, rather than that of the brilliant order. But the one great attribute that crowns them all—gracing, of course, some gift of the other three—but without which beauty, grace, cleverness are all as apples of Sodom—is the sense of enjoyment, the gift of happiness! I don't think I can better define it than by the word radiance. And, best of all, radiance is a quality that can be cultivated.

Mrs. Jacob Wilmert, Lincoln, Ill., found her way back to perfect health. She writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble and backache and my appetite was very poor at times. A few weeks ago I got Foley's Kidney Pills and gave them a fair trial. They gave me great relief, so continued till now I am again in perfect health." Holton Drug Co.

His Cue.

Merton was learning his letters from a primer. He pointed to the ones he knew, and when he came to "Q" he said, "Why that's an O with a banana through it."—The Delineator for October.

Your kidney trouble may be of long standing, it may be either acute or chronic, but whatever it is Foley's Kidney Remedy will aid you to get rid of it quickly and restore your natural health and vigor. "One bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy made me well," said J. Sibbald, of Grand View, Wis. Commence taking it now." Holton Drug Co.

Two Short Words.

"The best," well describes the satisfaction every user feels when he tries Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve for his head or chest cold, or his croupy child. It is a comfort, a cure and a joy. Try a jar and get your money back if not pleased.

Wigg—"Poor old Bjones seems very despondent. He says he hasn't a friend in the world." Wagg—"What is he, a baseball umpire?"

HOBBLE SKIRT RACE.

One Contestant in After-Dinner Sprint Fell in Forty-Third Street, New York. New York Times.

Two young women, wearing extreme "hobble" skirts, ran a race last night on a wager in Forty-Third street, between Fifth and Madison avenues. The race was witnessed by a party, of which the two young women were members, all of whom had dined at the Hotel Manhattan.

The street was apparently deserted when the party left the hotel on the Forty-third street side. Several taxicabs were waiting to take them to the theatre, but instead of entering the cabs the party told the drivers to wait a minute while they walked up the block.

According to an onlooker, who was coming through Forty-third street, the young women succeeded in running a quarter of a block before anything happened. Then one of the racers tripped in her skirt and fell on her knees. Her companion finished the half block without a mishap and was awarded the prize, which looked like a box of candy.

The young woman who ran second was apparently not hurt by her fall, and the party drove off in the cabs a few minutes later, laughing over their escapade. The names of the contestants could not be learned at the hotel, although it was said that a party of young folk had dined together in the restaurant and left the hotel about 8 o'clock.

Forty-third street at this hour is as quiet as a country lane. A watchman who patrols the block said last night that he had noticed a party of young folk running and seemingly enjoying themselves shortly after 8 o'clock. He betrayed ignorance of such a modern term as "hobble" skirt, explaining that he had quite enough to do without paying attention to what he termed the "fool fashions of the women folk."

It Saved His Leg.

"I thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swensen, of Watertown, Wis. "Ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it, sound and well." Infalible for Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Boils, Fever Sores, Burns, Scalds, Cuts and Piles. 25c at Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

Few and Far Between.

"If men really would 'vote as they pray,' remarked Goodley, "this would truly be a happy world." "Yes," replied Wise, "but in that case you wouldn't get some men to the polls once in ten years."—Catholic Standard and Times.

The Lash of a Fiend

would have been about as welcome to A. Copeer, of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It has most trouble some at night," he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, laryngitis, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hayfever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. A trial convinces. 50c., $1.00. Trial bottle free. It's positively guaranteed by Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

A BOLD STEP

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broad-cast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines.

Thus Dr. Pierce has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits and placed them in a class all by themselves by making them remedies OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same.

From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, overworked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

GEORGE V AIDS OLD NURSE

Sends To Vermont For Her and Buys Her a Home.

New York Times.

As a reward for the care she lavished on him in his infancy, King George V. has summoned to her native land Mrs. Ann Roberts, once his nurse, that she may spend her last days in comfort. The King has bought for her a home in the village of Bethesda, North Wales, and thither she will soon go.

For the past three years Mrs. Roberts has been living at North Poultny, Vt. She came to America to visit her brother, Thomas Edmunds, who for 40 years has been a resident of this little Vermont town.

Mrs. Roberts was born in Bethesda, and when a girl went to London to "seek service." She was a buxom and red-cheeked maiden of striking appearance, and before she had been long in the city married a young tradesman. They set up housekeeping a short distance from Buckingham Palace, and Mrs. Roberts attracted the notice of some of Queen Alexandra's entourage, and was chosen for the position she later filled.

The day after the night of the birth of King George Mrs. Roberts reported at the palace and took up her duties. Her own child, then a few weeks old, was given into the care of another woman, and it became ill. No mention of this, however, was made to the young nurse until eight days later, when she was told of her baby's death.

Bankrupt Discharged.
